COQUITLAM

Sculpture Gardens - Blue Mountain Park

This Sculpture Garden is the result of the Coquitlam Stone Symposium 1986-87. It is the only one of its kind in Western Canada. Also in this beautiful park is the historic Fraser Mills Train Station, last stop for immigrants from Quebec to the lumber mills along the Fraser River.

Place des Arts - corner of Marmont & Brunette Aves. In the area know as Maillardville, the historic French-Canadian settlement, it was the home of the first manager of Fraser Mills.

It now houses a gift shop and on-going exhibits in various media. Classes are held in a wide range of artistic pursuits in visual and performing arts. Across the street is another historic home. Nearby, in Laval Square, is Lady of Lourdes Church, earliest church in the area. Notice the redevelopment in the area done in the early French-Canadian style.

Poirier Street Library - 565 Poirier Street

The library opened in March 1989 for the benefit of Coquitlam residents. Interesting in design, it is also the home of exhibits of various kinds.

MORE ATTRACTIONS

Coquitlam Centre - corner of Barnet & Lougheed Hwys. This large shopping centre features many interesting sculptures and fascinating stained glass windows. Often performances and displays are scheduled, especially on weekends.

Minnekhada Park

Minnekhada is a hunting lodge built on the 175 hectare estate of two former Lt. Governors of B.C. - Eric Hamber and Clarence Wallace. This scenic property, teeming with wildlife, was sold to the government of British Columbia in 1975 and in 1984 became a popular GVRD Park. Programs for the public are often scheduled. For more information, call 432-6200.

Mundy Park

This large, wooded park can be accessed from Como Lake Avenue or Mundy Road. Walk or jog on trails leading to two small lakes.

Como Lake Park

On Gatensbury Street, this delightful lake is encircled by a path popular with joggers and walkers alike. Bring bread for the ducks.

ANMORE

This building was once the home of Ma Murray, one of B.C.'s most colourful pioneer women. George and Margaret, newly married built the house in 1916. Both were active in politics. He, being the first MP for this area and "Ma", a newspaper-woman, was known for her unique style of journalism.

PORT MOODY

A fine example of heritage Port Moody, located in a neighbourhood of old homes, churches and stores. Nearby Clarke Street is the historic centre of the city.

Port Moody City Hall - St. John's Street

This museum echoes the importance of the railway in our history, and houses artifacts from District 43, as gathered and preserved by the Port Moody Heritage Society. Tours are available on a drop-in basis in the summer or by phoning 939-1648. It is presently the home of the Arts Council who run a Gallery Port Moody Station Museum Shoppe in the old waiting room of the station. Nearby is beautiful Rocky Point Park, a popular boat launch, picnic area and home of the new public pier.

Pleasantide Store - Ioco Road

On the scenic north shore, it is the subject of many artists' renderings. It has appeal for its character and lack of change. You may have seen this charming store on television or in movies. Carry on down the road to Belcarra Park, Sasamat Lake, White Pine Beach, or Buntzen Lake.

PORT COQUITLAM

Port Coquitlam City Hall

Located at the corner of Shaughnessy Street and McAllister Avenue, it was recently remodelled for the 75th Anniversary of the city. New mingles with old to create an innovative style.

Named for the City of Port Coquitlam's renowned hero, this structure features a statue of Terry on his courageous run. Inside is memorabilia of the Marathon of Hope, as well as an art exhibit.

Terry Fox Library - Mary Hill Rd.

Across the street is one of the oldest lacrosse boxes in the province.

Kilmer House

Built in 1910, this home has been selected as a heritage home and will undergo extensive renovations, possibly for use as an Arts Centre. Not yet open to the public, it is located on Pooley Ave. off Mary Hill Road.

CAFAC GALLERY SHOPPE

Located in the Port Moody Station Museum, 2734 Murray Street near Rocky Point Park, the shop is open daily from noon to 4 pm. Works by CAFAC member artists are available for sale.
Drop in to see the selection of paintings, wood carvings, jewelry, sculpture, weavings, stained
